

Rose Of The Week

Purple Cezzane

Purple Cezzane is an established variety from the breeder Olij Rosen. It has been in production for about seven years. The variety initially was popular due to the high quality of the rose in this color. It still remains one of the most popular varieties in a hot pink or raspberry color. It is very slow to open and does not open fully. It is highly productive but requires more water than most varieties and is susceptible to mildew.
